the <sup>daily</sup> papers. I was hooked in to speak, I did not get mentioned the papers and said it was for sale. The W.P.O.W had their 2: W.P. World and got most of the sales. We sold about 45 Journals. After the meeting we went up and down the streets and into various amusement resorts showing our bags and the paper. In Luna Park there was a caricature Suffrajette. He wanted a bag and a badge. I gave him a paper and he held it up to view. Many of the employees at various places begged a paper and stood reading it. It all amounted to a very good advertisement.

Yesterday, Sunday, I went to Newark. I had heard of an amusement park, but after my arrival was told it could not be allowed on Sunday. I nearly screamed. Newark has a 'closed Sunday' and here was ~~there~~ <sup>beer</sup> etc. and bowling going on in the most flagrant manner and to sell a Suffrage paper was breaking the Sabbath. Again, man's logic(?).

Today the YHB went down to the Wall St. section. It was highly amusing. a very good
